Students Vote Alma Mater Of Instructor, Wife, Winner

The entry of Dr. and Mrs. T. N. Bonner has placed first in the GATEWAY school song contest. Three hundred eighty-seven students voted in the pep rally-song convocation Thursday morning in the Auditorium.

Dr. Bonner's entry will be the official Alma Mater Song for 1956. It has been recommended that the GATEWAY sponsor a similar contest each year for a period of time.

Prior to the song voting, master of ceremonies Lew Radcliffe introduced cheerleaders, basketball team and Coach Jack Cotton.

Volunteers from the University chorus presented each song for students. The five songs presented at the convocation were chosen from a total of 13 entries in a contest begun last October by the GATEWAY. The other four songs will be filed for future use.

The assistant professor of history was presented a trophy by the GATEWAY staff at 8 a. m. this morning. His entry was number four on the song sheet.

The Bonners' enthusiasm for the song came when they were returning home after the Northern Illinois-OU game, with OU victorious 27-12. Mrs. Bonner composed the music. Dr. Bonner wrote the words.

Omaha, dear Alma Mater,
Our hearts to thee are true
All your Indian sons and daughters
Pledge their loyalty to you.
Memories will ever haunt us
Of our friendships warm and dear.
We'll remember long your campus
And our victors' rousing cheer.
Omaha, your hills, your river,
Proud Ak-Sar-Ben's storied fame,
Cannot match the rising glory
Of our Alma Mater's name.

Bonner accepts trophy from Ellsworth for winning team-work.

Marcia Miller will head the GATEWAY staff next semester. Her appointment was announced at the December Board of Student Publications meeting.

Assisting Miss Miller will be Keith McMillan as managing editor. Sue Moss has been appointed news editor.

Four Desks in Gateway History

Miss Miller served as managing editor during the current semester, and in the past has been news editor, proof editor and assistant society editor. A senior home economics-journalism major, she will replace present editor Betty Ellsworth. As editor-in-chief of the GATEWAY, Miss Miller will be a member of the Board of Student Publications.

McMillan, current news editor, has previously been copy editor. Miss Moss is copy editor of the Tomahawk and has served as GATEWAY reporter. Both are sophomores.

Benefactor Eugene C. Eppley presents $850,000 check to President Milo Bail as Student Council President Lew Radcliffe watches.

Eppley Gives Bail $850,000 Check

The $850,000 check for the Gene Eppley Library was given President Milo Bail at a brief ceremony Jan. 5. Mr. Eppley, president of the Eppley Foundation, presented the check before the Board of Regents, faculty and student representatives in the new Library entrance.

The presentation followed an earlier announcement that the check would cover the entire cost of the new Library, and that the Library would bear the name of its donor. The Gene Eppley Library was open for student use when the school resumed from Christmas vacation, Jan. 4. Formal dedication ceremonies will be Feb. 5.

The $850,000 check, the largest donation ever made to the University of Omaha, will move the building program ahead five years. There is a possibility that construction on the proposed Student Center and the Applied Arts and Engineering Building will begin before June. Confirmation of the plans will be discussed at the next Board of Regents meeting Jan. 19.

Not First Gift

This is not Mr. Eppley's first donation to the University. About five years ago he gave $7,500, half of which was used to equip the University band with uniforms and instruments. The remainder paid for the original plans for the University Library.

A $1,600 gift, given about the same time last year, provided transportation for the crack 24-member Marching Angels drill squad to Orlando, Fla., for the Tangerine Bowl game.

Mr. Eppley controls the Eppley Hotels Company, today embracing 21 hotels located in six states. In addition, he owns and operates the 1,600-room William Penn in Pittsburgh, and is a director and substantial stockholder in the Sheraton Corporation of America.

The University benefactor is also board chairman of the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel, Detroit, and is a director and stockholder of Braniff International Airlines. Omaha hotels operated by the Eppley Company are the Fontenelle, Logan and Rome.

Native Ohlean

Mr. Eppley was born in Akron, Ohio, and received his education at Culver Military Academy and Stanford University. He is a former King of Ak-Sar-Ben, an honor currently held by President Bail.

The Applied Arts and Engineering Building would house the Engineering, Science, Journalism and Home Economics departments. Dr. Bail said the building might cost $800,000 to $1,000,000, but could be built in two sections, with one section to be erected at a later time. Approximate cost of the Student Center is from $900,000 to $1,000,000.

The University would expect to put up 40 to 50 per cent of the money for the Student Center, with the remainder to be financed by users of the center through revenue bonds.

Editorially Speaking . . . OU Has Her School Song!

The University of Omaha has an Alma Mater Song! The enthusiasm of the students who attended the convocation yesterday shows we have school spirit!

And now we have an even bigger reason to continue that spirit. We must remember that the Alma Mater song speaks for the University of Omaha. We must see that we assume our part in bringing it favorably before all who hear it.

The GATEWAY staff is sincerely grateful to all who participated in any way in the Alma Mater contest. Student and faculty response, which seemed almost nil in the beginning, came through when 13 songs were entered the last day of the contest.

We thank the panel of judges who narrowed the entries to the five to present for student vote. Special thanks to the Music Department and those students who volunteered their time to sing the songs.

There is no question but that the school spirit fired by the cheerleaders and band at the pep rally preceding the song voting gave the enthusiastic setting for the entire convocation. bje

Student Revives Parking Question

Dear Editor:

I am writing about a well-known, but not a well-liked topic around the campus. Namely, the parking meters.

I have been told by a member of the faculty that the purpose of the meters was to pay for the cost of repaving the lower lot. This cost is approximately $27,000. Now the device for paying this bill, namely the meters, costs around the same figure.

Why make the student foot the bill for the additional cost of the meters? Do you, the student, like having to spend about 30 cents per day to those greedy little machines?

What about the additional bother and worry that is necessary to take care of them? What about the eager men in the blue uniforms, who seem to be equipped with stop-watches?

It seems to me that if about $4 per semester was assessed from each student driver in night and day school, the required amount would be raised in one semester. Would this not be easier than playing games with those meters and the business office? Are the meters going to be removed after the total amount is paid?

Am I the only student to raise a wondering eyebrow?

Editor's Note: The parking meters were installed as the best solution to today's parking problem and as a continued source of revenue to improve present areas and to provide additional parking space. It is ridiculous to think that meters will be removed after their cost is paid. Why would they have been installed, had this been the plan? Think, man, think!

OU Sororities Entertain

The University Panhellenic Council provided Christmas readings and musical programs at three old persons' homes. Each sorority participated in the hour-long programs at 2 p. m. Musicians Claim Lack of Facilities In Applied Work

Every major field that uses applied or practical work as method of learning has some facilities on which to practice their future trades.

That is every field, except music. Music majors have no available facilities for practice.

Student teachers go out and practice teaching at schools. Yet we can't even find facilities to practice in our own school.

Home economics majors have stoves and sinks. A music student with a pitch pipe instead of a piano is like a home ec student with a hot plate.

Music, more than any other field takes practice for perfection.

Radio and speech majors have KWOU, journalists have the student publications, but music majors don't even have access to the few school pianos.

Now there will be a new music building, with many practice rooms. Rooms, but only two pianos. There will be no pianos in the individual practice rooms.

Voice and instrument majors are dependent upon a piano for guidance.

The building is supposed to "ultimately have sufficient pianos." When is "ultimately."

Omaha University is losing, and will continue to lose music majors to other schools if they do not provide practice pianos.

KU Veterans Propose New Honor Program

Lawrence, Kans. (I.P.)—The University Veterans Organization at the University of Kansas has proposed an honor system to strengthen the reputation of the university. The UVO maintains that allegations of dishonesty, unfairness and adverse publicity have harmed the University.

The system would require students to act honorably in all phases of campus life. Lying, cheating, stealing or breaking one's word of honor would be considered infractions of the system. The system has 11 procedural features calling for the students, themselves, to provide a check on each other.

Anyone suspected of having committed a breach of honor shall undergo investigation by fellow students. If the judges feel the student is guilty they shall charge the student to his face and then inform the honor committee of the charges.

The student may choose to leave the university or appeal to the honor committee. The honor committee is composed of the presidents of the 10 schools of the university with the eleventh member represented by the vice-president of the school to which the accused belongs. Counsel can be taken from the student body to represent either side.

If the accused is found guilty the committee can impose a penalty up to and including dismissal from the university. If the accused is found innocent the matter will be dropped and the minutes of the proceeding destroyed.

'Studying Now A Pleasure' In New Eppley Building

University students are united in their approval of the advantages of the new Gene Eppley Library.

All agree that the new building is a tremendous improvement over old facilities. The stacks of books, ample room to study, beauty and pleasantness of the surroundings and the quietness are appreciated by students who had to study and do research in the old library.

Dear Editor:

The new library is arranged in such a manner as to provide a great deal of comfort. It is a little hard to find material right now, but I do believe the accessibility to books is an improvement over the old facilities.

Dick Bailey Senior

The new library is a magnificent building which will afford students a place to study. There seems to be a lot of books here, but I would not know how to find the ones I want. Let's have an instruction sheet. And please, no music in the study rooms like the cafeteria has.

A Senior

It makes studying a lot simpler by choosing the books you want to use instead of sending down for them.

Susie Beck, Junior

Studying a Pleasure Now. It almost makes studying a pleasure in such pleasing surroundings and quietness.

Bett Coleman, Sophomore

The new library has many advantages. One in particular is that I can go behind a stack of books and sit down and really study.

Janet Decker, Sophomore

The quietness really makes studying more of a pleasure.

Joanle Engstrom, Freshman

I would like to thank Mr. Eppley for making the new library possible. The students at OU will never forget him and his generosity.

Jack Finney, Freshman

I think the library is a wonderful addition to our campus.

Sandra Garey, Freshman

I'm sure the added facilities will be appreciated and enjoyed by all the students.

Kay Hammond, Freshman

Open on Sundays. The library is excellent. The only way it could possibly be improved would be to have it open on Sundays.

Roger Haney, Sophomore

I think it is beautiful and a wonderful place to study.

Curtis A. Hunigan, Freshman

It makes studying a lot simpler

by choosing the books you want to use instead of sending down for them.

Janet Ihmen, Freshman

The new library adds beauty to the campus and encourages students to study. It is a building we should all be very proud of.

Irene Rorick, Junior

Audio Aids Distracting

The new library is a wonderful improvement and makes studying more pleasant. It would be a great improvement though if the Audio-Visual Aids room could be soundproofed. The noise coming from there is quite distracting.

Scott Ryder, Freshman

The new library building offers a quieter place in which to study besides the convenience of open stacks. It is very beautiful and a decided improvement to the campus.

Charlotte Stanley, Sophomore

It's certainly a change from the dreary brown of the old building. Let's hope all the students are as proud of it as Miss Lord is.

Elinor Tracy, Junior

Lighting, Tables Marvelous

The new library is a partial answer to my study problems. It provides nice working tables and good lighting. The few books I've needed have been pretty easy to find.

Norman Velander, Freshman

I think the library is marvelous and I intend to spend a lot of my time in it.

Marlene Wetenkamp, Freshman. I think the library is so well planned and beautiful—and so quiet!

Cigarette Contest Deadline Jan. 31

The Viceroy "Name the Filter" closes at midnight, Jan. 31.

The object of the contest, open only to college students, is to write the best names for the cigarette's filter. Rules are on the entry blanks which are available in the GATEWAY office. All entries will be judged on the basis of aptness of thought, originality and interest.

Each entry must be accompanied by two pictures of the Filter Tip torn from the back of the cigarette packages.

A '56 Ford Thunderbird will be awarded to each of the ten top winners. They will also receive an RCA Victor Big Color TV set to present to the college organization of their choice.

Columbia "360" K high fidelity phonographs will be awarded to the 40 second place winners.

Would Rules Change Total Class Cuts?

At one time OU faced a problem of too many absences from classes and convocations. What would happen if the University would adopt rules governing such absences?

The 1955-56, 1956-57 University catalog, issued last spring, is the first catalog that did not state upperclassmen's privilege to more than three absences.

The faculty of Davis and Elkins College adopted eight rules in lieu of their long list of absences.

1. Excessive absences shall be defined as one or more absences in excess of the number of hours credit given in the course.

2. There shall be no unexcused absences without penalty for freshmen, or for transfer students with less than 24 semester hours of credit. The penalty for each violation will be one dollar.

3. Sophomores and upperclassmen shall be a fine of one dollar for each excessive absence.

4. When any student is absent more than 12½ percent of the scheduled meetings of the class, excused or unexcused, he shall automatically receive an "F" in the course.

5. A fine of one dollar per absence shall be imposed upon students who are absent from assembly more than four times in one semester.

6. No absences are permitted, except for bona fide emergency reasons cleared by the Dean's office, from classes or Assembly during the two days immediately preceding and following the Christmas and spring vacations and the Thanksgiving holiday. The penalty for violating this rule shall be three dollars for each class or Assembly missed.

7. Class work and the accounting of class absences shall begin on the first scheduled meetings of classes at the beginning of each semester. If a student registers late, he is nonetheless responsible for absences occurring before his registration.

8. Dean's List students should be exempt from rules 1, 3 and 4; however, this exemption shall not be interpreted to relieve the student of his responsibility for all assigned work.

CAE Courses Offer Variety

A variety of interests are represented in the non-credit courses offered by the College of Adult Education for the spring semester.

"Principles of Individual Income Tax Reporting" will be offered from 7 to 9 p. m. in six sessions beginning Feb. 3. Paul Rauth is chairman.

Horticulture experts from Omaha will present a series entitled "From Dirt to Beauty" on Tuesday evenings, Feb. 3 to Mar. 13. Mr. Willis Naby is chairman. The course will meet in the Marine Room of the Conference Center in the Gene Eppley Library.

William Utley is chairman of "Problems in Planning a Greater Omaha" which is offered Thursday, Feb. 9 to Mar. 15, in the Federal Room, Conference Center.

Also on Thursday is "Planning Home Ownership." Omaha realtors, under chairmanship of Ernest Thomason, will conduct the class.

"Music for Layman," designed to assist adults interested in developing musical skills and in continuing self-instruction, will meet on Wednesday for 12 sessions. Rudolph Berryman is chairman.

Other general courses of 12 to 15 weeks in length are Adult Chorus, Monday beginning Feb. 6; Reading Practice and Skill, Thursdays beginning Feb. 9; Oil Painting, Tuesdays beginning Feb. 7; Sew and Save, Tuesdays beginning Feb. 7; Punch Card Accounting, Wednesdays beginning Feb. 8, and Ceramics or Jewelry, Saturdays 9 a. m. to 11 a. m. beginning Feb. 11.

Clark Names Cast for Play; 'Bernadine' Doesn't Exist

By Kay Anderson

The cast for the next university Theater production has now been selected, announced Dr. Edwin L. Clark, director.

The play, "Bernadine," by Mary Coyle Chase, is a comedy in two acts and will be presented Feb. 10 and 11.

In this play a group of high school boys show the audience a few episodes from their recent past.

The principal character, Wormy Weldy, portrayed by Dick Herre, is a warm-hearted, sincere boy who suffers under his mother's strict vigilance. He is always delighted at the humor of the other boys but he has little himself.

Marcia Morris in the role of Ruth Weldy, Wormy's mother, portrays a woman who has not solved her own emotional problems and does not manage too well with those of her son either. The boys refer to her as "the warden."

Allen to Lead Boys

Hugh Allen takes the part of Arthur Beaumont, leader of the boys. Marvin (Tub) Griner, the "wolf" of the crowd, will be played by Thomas Finley. The part of Fudge Friedelhauser will be taken by Gifford Anderson. Fudge is a slow-witted, whole-hearted boy who is at his best on a football field.

Dave Drittler will play the insolent, humorous Leonard Carney. He is probably the only boy in the crowd who realizes that Arthur Beaumont has a sensitive nature. Another of the boys, Morgan Olsen, will be portrayed by Doug Postlewait. Vernon Kinswood, an opportunist by nature, will be played by Richard Meyers.

Playing Dave Gibbs, a pompous boy of little sensitivity or humor, will be John Clark. Al Longacre will take the part of Will McElroy, a boy who has leadership potential.

Rhea Gets Part

Portraying Jean Cantrick is Carol Rhea. Jean is a typical, pretty, American teen-age girl who tries to be exactly like all the other girls in her group. Her good-hearted mother, Selma Cantrick, is being played by Sandy Dungan.

Marcia Wetzler will take the part of Enid Lacey whose biggest interest in life is men. Helen, a waitress, is being played by Rebecca Chartier. Portraying a hotel wolf is Don McKeen.

John Schmidt takes the part of a bellboy, and Jack Moskovits plays A. J. Witnick, a hotel manager.

The title character, Bernadine, does not actually exist. Instead, she lives only in the imaginations of these high school boys. She represents to them the beautiful unobtainable older woman. The boys imagine her as a resident of Sneaky Falls, Idaho, on the banks of the Itching River. She is a woman who knows only one word... "yes."

Auditions Next Week For 'Finians' Rainbow

Vocal tryouts for "Finian's Rainbow," leads and chorus, will be held Monday in Room 382 from 3 to 5 p. m. and Tuesday from 4 to 5 p. m.

Everyone interested in participating in the musical must audition at this time. Dr. James B. Peterson, head of the music department, emphasized that this is an all-University production. He said, "everyone is invited to audition."

New Frosh, Transfers To Face Test Jan. 23

Guidance examinations will be given to entering freshman and transfer students at 8 a. m. Jan. 23.

The tests will be given at the Adult Education conference center in the Gene Eppley Library. The testing period will be approximately 7½ hours. About 100 students are expected to take part in this examination period. Students who are late in taking the examinations will be charged a late fee. The regular fee is $3.

Students Can See Europe for $1,000; Travel-Study Tour

The Summer Session of the University will provide a 46-day travel-study tour to Europe for less than $1,000.

The tour scheduled to embark by steamship June 12, will include travel through England, Belgium, Holland, Switzerland, Italy and France.

Dr. Oscar Budel, a member of the Foreign Language Department faculty and a native European, will be tour conductor.

May Receive Class Credit

Tour students may earn three semester hours of credit in a course of their selection upon approval of the head of the department concerned. Audit registration is also permitted.

Special orientation and study prior to leaving on the tour and evaluation sessions with the professor following the tour are expected.

Contact Dr. Budel or Office

Interested students or graduates should contact either Dr. Budel or the Summer Sessions Office, Room 184. The tour is especially planned to be educational and cultural in its nature above the usual sight-seeing experiences of average tourists.

Dr. C. S. Espinosa, also of the Foreign Languages Department, will conduct a tour to Mexico and Yucatan during the summer also. Itineraries of each tour are now being developed.

New Year Celebrations Have Traditional Past

New Year's Day has been a time for paying past debts and looking forward to new beginnings for centuries. Therefore the custom of making New Year's resolutions in the hope of bettering yourself in the coming year.

The custom of watching the old year out and seeing the new in with noise and celebration has continued to the present day.

But however you celebrated New Year's, you can be sure that there are centuries of tradition behind your actions.

Students, Faculty Find New Library Inspiring

"Awe-inspiring!" agreed Associate Librarian Kilbourn L. Janeczek and Reference Librarian Marion R. McCauley in speaking of the Gene Eppley Library. The building will be dedicated at 2:30 p. m., Sunday, Feb. 5.

"The wonderful thing to me is that students not only comment on the beauty of the new building to the members of the staff, but they discuss it among themselves," remarked Mr. Janeczek. Combination Carrier Awe

"I think many students are seeing a library as it should be for the first time at Omaha U. The combination of more space, newness, better lighting, and the

New Rules Announced For Choir Attendance

University Choir Director John Miller has announced new requisites for membership in the organization.

The course may be taken for two, one, or no credits, but members must be able to attend rehearsals five days a week at 2 p. m.

Mr. Miller would especially like to increase the male sections of the choir.

Interested students may try out for choir by contacting Mr. Miller in Room 350. He commented that he would like to see students before they registered for second semester.

The annual Easter convocation and the Spring Concert are the two main second semester performances.

Persons May Donate To Nevins' Memorial

Donations are still being accepted in the Dean of Students' office for the Carolyn Nevins Memorial Fund which is sponsored by the Faculty Women's Club.

Plans for another memorial fund will be discussed at a future Student Council sponsored Prexy Party.

open-stack system carrier the feeling of awe to the students as well as staff members," he added.

This is the first time many students and faculty members have been able to view the entire collection of 104,000 separate volumes.

Mr. McCauley said, "I feel that more students are making use of the Library than they did before, probably because of the greater facility."

Both men feel that working conditions are "par excellence" in the new building.

Response 'Enthusiastic'

"Student response to the new Library has been most enthusiastic," Miss Ellen Lord, University Librarian, stated. Over 500 mimeographed maps of the Library's interior were distributed during the first three days.

Commented one student on her third trip to the Library on the first day, "It is so beautiful I just can't stay away."

Betty Marley, student Library assistant, stated: "This building is so much more pleasant and quiet than the old Library that I can't say enough about it. I think it's wonderful!"

Mr. Janeczek, whose job is assisting Miss Lord in over-all supervision of the Library, received his B.S. from the University of Denver and his M.A. from the School of Librarianship there. He is now president of the Omaha and Council Bluffs Library Association.

Experience 'Invaluable'

"Some day I hope to have a library of my own, and possibly, move into a new building. The experience of moving here will be invaluable to me in that case," Mr. Janeczek remarked.

McCauley earned his B.A. and M.A. at the University of Iowa and got his M.S. at the University of Illinois. He majored in Library Science and journalism.

He taught in high school and junior college in Eagle Grove, Ia., and worked in libraries at the University of Illinois and the University of Texas.

'Dusty' Decker Wins Title Of 'Typical Fraternity Man'

Dusty Decker . . . Typical Fraternity Man.

Marvin "Dusty" Decker was elected "Typical Fraternity Man" by an all-Greek vote Dec. 16 at Sigma Kappa's annual Violet Formal at the Birchwood Club.

Sigma Kappa's presented Dusty with a billfold and a pair of cuff links. Cuff links were also given to the four other candidates for the "Typical Fraternity Man" title, Don Ehrlick, Phi Beta Chi; Le Roy Klima, Lambda Chi Alpha; Chuck Rice, Sigma Phi Epsilon and Santo Terrano, Theta Chi.

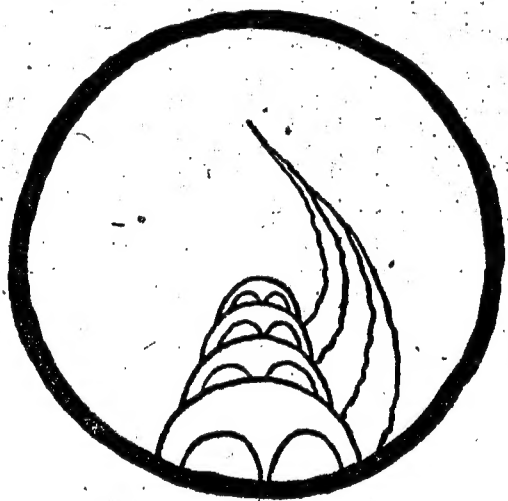

Another feature of the dance was presentation of Sigma Kappa's "meanest" and "sweetest" pledges. Kay McGinty and Nancy Jo Reed were named "meanest" and "sweetest" pledges, respectively. Janet Decker added to her family's honors as she was revealed "sweetest active" of Sigma Kappa while "meanest" laurels went to active, Pat Buell.

Margie Fokken was general chairman of the semi-formal dance. She was assisted by Misa Buell and Marge Radek.

Library Prompts Fashion Forecast For Chilly Walks

Although the men may be thinking in terms of preparing for interplanetary travel, many of the OU women now face a preparation problem concerning their inter-building travel, i. e., to and from the Library (via the elements of nature!).

The dilemma facing most females now is where to put their long winter coats while studying in the new building. It hurts a little to see a good coat dragging—no matter how new the floor may be.

Could the answer be a trend towards more shortie coats and jackets—the kind that easily hang over the back of a chair?

'Campus Model' To Appear?

When asked whether she believed women's coat styles would change on this campus as a result of the travel back and forth, Miss Margaret Killian, head of the home economics department, replied, "It looks to me more like the nationwide 'campus model coat' will come in instead!"

Since OU has just recently become a university of multiple building units and some persons might plead ignorance about this fashion, Miss Killian was eager to define it:

Killian Defines New Fashion

"A campus model is any old (or new), convenient, soft (or rough), usually a favorite, 'wrap' to be tossed on for dashes back and forth between buildings. After some great amount of use these 'coats' could become bedraggled, worn out—even shoddy. But, of course," she added, "our coeds will keep trim no matter how comfortable they are . . . I hope."

To be stylish—or shaggy???—that is the question.

Press Club Dinner Will Be Tuesday

The Press Club will meet at 5 p. m. next Tuesday in Room 100 for a dinner meeting.

The group will discuss plans for applying for membership in Theta Sigma Phi, national women's professional journalism fraternity.

Plans will also be formulated for the annual High School Press Day sponsored annually by the Press Club.

Simpson and Kansas Next Hoop Foes Here

Two home games in the next two weeks are the prospects for the Indian basketball squad. Simpson College from Indianola, Ia. will face the cagers next Thursday, Jan. 19, and the following Saturday, Washburn University of Kansas faces Coach Jack Cotton and his charges.

A publicity drought seems to be all the University athletic department can receive from the two schools. Athletic Business Manager Harvey Vogler states that Simpson College has failed to send even a brochure of basketball candidates; and Washburn has sent very little information pertinent to Omaha interests.

Last year, the Indians downed Simpson both at home and away, as they won by scores of 65-56 and 92-62. The squad downed Simpson 92-83 on Dec. 3 of this year's season.

Top gun for OU was Stan Schaetzle with 26, but Simpson's Dick Jorgensen and Bill Austin paired for 18 and 14 points respectively to hold Omaha to the slim nine point margin.

The Omaha crew was dumped by Washburn last year, 93-87, and the team obviously is gunning for revenge when they meet the Ichabods next weekend.

Last night's OU-Creighton contest, a game both teams pointed for in practices, was played too late to meet the deadline for this issue of the GATEWAY.

Cinder Season Opens Feb. 7

Track candidates have begun workouts in preparation for the Feb. 7 meet against Kansas State, Emporia State Teachers, and Drake University. The meet will be held at Manhattan on the K-State track.

Coach Ernie Gorr will be depending heavily on lettermen in the early meet but hopes to have some freshmen and sophomores to provide depth.

Among the returning lettermen are Bob Gerdeman, senior hurdler and sprinter who established Omaha University as a track school when he placed second in the Kansas Relays, first in the Drake Relays and in the NAIA finals in the 400 meter hurdles. Gerdeman also powered the mile relay team to several meet records and a new O.U. school record.

Barnes Boys Back
Others returning are three year lettermen Bob and Bill Barnes and Larry Means. Bob Barnes and Means are the other two remaining mile relay members, and Bill Barnes is one of the finest hurdlers in the Midwest. He set an unofficial record at the NAIA finals in the 220 low hurdles.

Dick May is a two-year letterman in the pole vault and the sprints. Gorr hopes to get some vaulters to support Dick this year, and use him in the sprint relays.

Other lettermen include Dave Piller, who won the regional NAIA broad jump championship and also runs the sprints, and Lloyd Hunter. Hunter impressed Gorr as well as his teammates as he sprinted, hurdled and jumped to gain valuable points in all meets.

Bob Trumbauer and Bob Jackson are two yearling lettermen last year. Trumbauer was an important point getter in the half mile and filled in the mile and sprint relays on several occasions. Jackson was second man on the "pole vault pole."

Lack in Jump, Weights

Those lost through graduation or because of quitting school includes distance Mel Decker, high jumper Roger Dunbar, sprinters Dave Seals, Wayne Larsen and Bill Jensen, and Bernie Lanson, the only man missing from the top mile relay squad.

Spots to be filled are in the field events. The team sorely needs high jumpers, and weight men. Gorr states he will take as many to Kansas State as he thinks have a possibility of placing.

OU Takes 98-87 Overtime Victory

Omaha University's cagers opened a not too successful road trip with a 98-87 overtime victory over Kansas City University last Friday.

The Indians led 51-47 at intermission. The second half was nip and tuck all the way. Dean Thompson tied the count 82 all with a layup in the last second. The overtime period was all OU as they outscored KCU 16-5. Stan Schaetzle's 33 and Dean Thompson's 29 topped Indian scoring.

Saturday night Omaha fell to a taller Emporia five 79-62. OU played on even terms with the Kansas club during a 34-32 first half. But Emporia's height was too much for the Indians the second half. Bob Shields and John Morse dunked 12 points each for OU.

Rockhurst also had too much height for the Indians. The home team led 53-31 at halftime and went on to win 102-82. Schaetzle and Don Meade were high in the Monday night contest with 25 and 23 points respectively.

Coach Jack Cotton said "The boys played real good ball in spots, but lack of height killed us at Emporia and Rockhurst." He also said that freshman Jack Paulson played very good ball.

NAIA Finals Prove Rough

By Warren Francke

For a few glorious moments, the University of Omaha basketball team was the best five in the NAIA Tip-Off Tournament.

The Indian cagers took on the Holiday tourney favorites, Western Illinois, from Macomb. With Johnny Morse and Stan Schaetzle doing the gunning, OU outclassed the big Leathernecks and grabbed a 10-3 lead.

Illinois Leads at Half

But the tall men from Illinois began to show their scoring power and gained a 51-39 halftime margin. O.U. dropped the opening night encounter, 85-69.

Morse and Schaetzle each hit seven shots from the floor, but they were allowed few gift shot chances as they led O.U. scoring.

And the Leathernecks went on to the tourney championship. Oklahomaans Tough, Too Dropping into the consolation brackets, the Indians had the task of stopping the tourney's eventual top scorer, Jim Spivey of Southeastern Oklahoma. O.U. trailed by only one point at the halfway mark.

The Oklahomaans won 74-62 with Spivey tallying 29 points. Stan Schaetzle topped the Indians with 17.

Officials described the meet as a huge success. Western Illinois took enthusiasm honors, bringing a large pep band and a squad of cheerleaders to Omaha.

Fans and players alike agreed that some of the top small college competition in the nation presented itself at the meeting. The class of playing was high, and Western Illinois and Gustavus Adolphus showed, according to Omaha players, nearly professional ability in the intricate plays they employed.

Omaha Coach Jack Cotton stated that one of the first ways to pick a top team is to note the absence of bad passes and poorly placed shots. By this standard, the Indians indeed played some potent and exacting teams.

PE Majors Start Clinic For 'Grunt' n Grapplers

A wrestling clinic for intramural aspirants will be conducted by the P. E. Majors Jan. 4, 5 and 6, in an effort to encourage the grunt-n-graun" enthusiasts for their season which opens Jan. 20.

Athletes Prepare For Track Meets; Baseball Games

Athletics will be one of the dominating features of the spring semester as basketball, baseball, track, as well as the intramural programs get into full swing.

Coach Jack Cotton's cagers face such schools as Simpson, Washburn, Rockhurst, Doane, St. Ambrose and Morningside College in the next month. The team has steadily improved and both the players and coaches hope to finish the season in winning fashion.

Several freshmen and papoose squad members have earned positions with the varsity and the added competition for starting positions has created new incentive in the squad.

Track coach Ernie Gorr faces the roughest group of schools in the history of the cinder sport at the University, but he has some top talent to enter against such powerhouse track opposition as Emporia, Drake, and Kansas State.

Emporia has some of the finest sprinters and middle distance men in the Midwest topped by Bill Tidwell, who bettered the existing world's record in the 880 yard run last summer.

Drake has always been a prominent track school as well as sponsoring the nationally attended Drake Relays every spring. Kansas State is the only Big Seven school which the Indians face this year in regular intra-school meet competition.

Although baseball seems ages away, coach Virgil Yelkin is already completing the schedule and working on plans for an early start. Yelkin will have the support of an almost complete, let-termin squad as well as many standout high school athletes.

The intramural program for the spring session includes indoor and outdoor track, volleyball, golf, bowling, and basketball. Director Gorr states that there will be a sport sponsored for any group that shows enough interest to get teams entered.

'Mural Finals

By Dick Paulson

Men's Intramural Basketball resumed action with four league contests.

Post-holiday play produced victories by Pawnees over Pi Kappa Alpha, 54 to 39; Newman Club beating Phi Beta Chi, 42 to 16; P. E. Majors romping over Phi Beta Chi, 56 to 8; and a Pi Kappa Alpha forfeit win over Lambda Chi Alpha.

At present there are four teams tied for first place with little basis for determining what team shows the highest caliber.

The weeks ahead will produce much activity with the season continuing through part of the next semester.

The present standings: Sweepstakes Division

| | W. | L. |
|-------------------------|----|----|
| P. E. Majors | 1 | 0 |
| Pawnees | 1 | 0 |
| Newman Club | 1 | 0 |
| Pi Kappa Alpha | 1 | 1 |
| Lambda Chi Alpha | 0 | 1 |
| Phi Beta Chi | 0 | 2 |
| Sigma Phi Epsilon | 0 | 0 |
| Theta Chi | 0 | 0 |
| ISA | 0 | 0 |

Interfraternity Division

| | W. | L. |
|-------------------------|----|----|
| Pi Kappa Alpha | 1 | 0 |
| Lambda Chi Alpha | 0 | 1 |
| Sigma Phi Epsilon | 0 | 0 |
| Theta Chi | 0 | 0 |
| Phi Beta Chi | 0 | 0 |

Intramural track will probably get underway shortly after final examinations. Always one of the bright spots in the 'mural program... this year's events should again prove entertaining as part-time athletes come out of hibernation to perform.

Doctor: "You must avoid all forms of excitement."

Patient: "Can't I even look at them across the street, Doctor?"

Cagers Need Boost

Last night's game against Creighton University was the first of four home games which the Indians will play this month. It was the first game since December 12 that the team played at home.

Athletic Business Manager Harvey Vogler voices strong hope that the next three games will show an increase in the "extremely poor" attendance which the team has drawn in the past.

Vogler stated that he thought one of the big reasons for this was that games were scheduled on Monday and Thursday nights... a time when many students worked and shopped in the downtown stores.

Coach Tallest, Peers Down

Omaha now has a coach who comes with high recommendation and an excellent past record. Jack Cotton is slowly building a team that he hopes will finish the season with their share of victories and a record of which the school will be proud. Cotton is 6'7" and probably tires of bending down to talk to his comparatively diminutive charges.

Lack of height has hampered the team all year; but Cotton states that this is now being compensated through experience and knowing the talents and capabilities of his individual players.

Senior Don Meade at 6'4" is the tallest man on the squad. In an age where the average team height often exceeds 6'2", the team could obviously use some of the tall talent that has been graduating from Omaha high schools in recent years.

Promotion Might Help

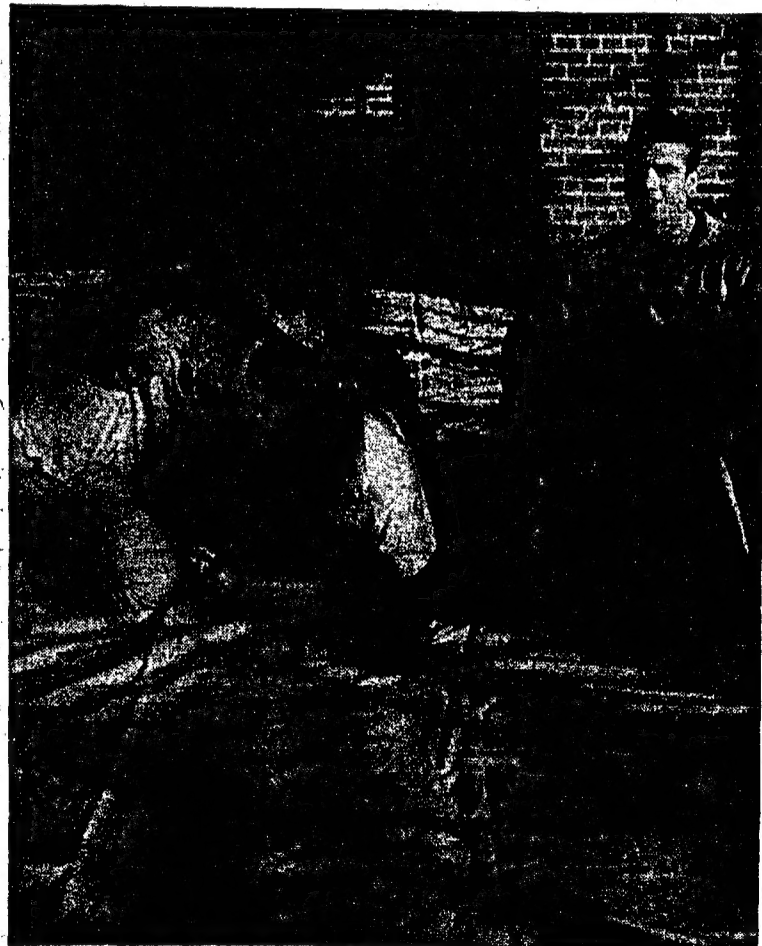

It has come to the attention of the sports desk that perhaps the basketball team could conduct its own clinic for high school players in the Fieldhouse in the spring. Thus the players could at least familiarize the young talent with the teams OU plays and facilities available both academically and athletically at Omaha.

A variation of this type of publicity is handled by the football team, who extend invitations to high school coaches and players to attend Indian home games; and also by the track men, who sponsor and score the indoor invitational high school track meet, where they at least have the opportunity of viewing the high school runners and answering questions. High school trackmen also attend the Omaha meets free. Many have taken advantage of this in past years.

A similar invitation to high school roundballers by OU players to come out and literally "hoop it up" might be the answer to the dwindling basketball fortunes.

So here's HATS OFF to coach Cotton and his men as they go into the final half of the season. School support in these home games would definitely be a gigantic factor in the team's morale... so see you at the game next Thursday night at eight!

Wrestlers Make Comeback Effort; Good Turnout for Intramural Meet

Intercollegiate wrestling may be on its way back to the Omaha University campus.

The sport was dropped in 1950 due to lack of interest. Ally Morrison coached the team which was sadly lacking in manpower. The Indian matmen failed to win a match that year.

The Physical Education Majors and the Intramural Athletic Department are sponsoring a wrestling tournament to build up interest. Preliminaries will be held Jan. 20, and the finals after the basketball game with Rockhurst Jan. 28.

Medals will be awarded to the winners of each weight division.

The weight divisions are 121,

128, 135, 145, 155, 165, 175 and heavyweight. All contestants will be weighed before the matches.

At the present time 45 boys are signed up. Of these 27 have some high school experience. Don Andrews and Jerry Davis both Central grads are two of the outstanding individuals entered.

Andrews won the 124 pound state title in '55 and was one of the main factors in Central winning state championships in '53, '54 and '55. Davis is National Greco-Roman champion and placed third in the National AAU tourney last spring. Jerry is a 115 pounder.

If this tournament proves successful the sport may be put on an intercollegiate basis next year.
